President's Message

Friends,

“Agricultural science has enormous potential to increase the yields of small farmers and lift them out of hunger and poverty.” Bill Gates.

The farmer is an integral part of rising India and the agriculture sector, one of PHD Chamber's thrust areas, opens doors for national prosperity, providing food security, eradicating poverty and improving the livelihoods of our populace. Acknowledging that India's soul resides in her villages, more than 58 percent of rural households depend on agriculture. The sector contributes 15-16 percent to India's GDP. Substantiating this, last month, PHD Chamber partnered with the Haryana Government to organize the Fourth Agri Leadership Summit, 2019 at Ganaur, (Sonipat), wherein Hon'ble President of India, Mr Ram Nath Kovind was the Chief Guest for the valedictory session. The Hon'ble President called for positioning farming in the agricultural value chain as well as giving it its due credit in the wider entrepreneurial context.

The Summit deliberated on the government's schemes to promote agriculture, horticulture and livestock sectors in the state of Haryana, by displaying innovative and novel technologies for the benefit of farmers and attracting investments in agro-related industry.

The Chamber applauds the initiatives taken by the government in the last four and a half years to fast track the progress of the farm sector. Reforms in the areas of irrigation, insurance, soil health, market, credit and farm infrastructure have resulted in record production of foodgrains and horticulture crops in the current year. The Indian food processing industry accounts for 32 percent of the country's total food market and is ranked fifth in terms of production, consumption, exports and growth. India is among the top 15 exporters of agricultural products in the world with agricultural exports aggregating at US$ 38.21 billion in FY 2017-18.

I am heartened to commend Prime Minister, Mr. Narendra Modi's mantra of "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas" that has been reflected in this year's Interim Budget 2019, reaffirming the government's commitment to focus on farmers' welfare. The historic programme, "Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi" assuring an annual income of Rs. 6,000 to 120 million small and marginal farmers, having cultivable land upto 2 hectare is a creditable measure. Other programs taken to address risks related to price and yield, such as PM Kisan Samman Nidhi, crop insurance, Soil Health cards, electronic-National Agriculture Market, up-gradation of rural haats and fixing the Minimum Support Price are likely to benefit the hardworking farmers. Here, I would like to comment that with men migrating to urban areas, 'feminization of agri sector' is taking place, with women performing multiple roles as cultivators, entrepreneurs and labourers.

I concur with the government's Agriculture Export Policy announced in December 2018, which strengthens the vision of doubling of farmers' income to US$ 3,420 per household by FY 2022. Exports are expected to increase to US$ 60 billion by 2022 and US$ 100 billion in the coming decade which will help to integrate farmers with the global value chain, by diversifying the export basket and promoting high value products. Another notable proposal announced recently is the setting up of a corpus fund of Rs. 2,000 crores by NABARD for development and upgrading of agricultural marketing infrastructure in rural and regulated wholesale markets. I also applaud the government's proposal to launch an index to rank States on the basis of ease-of-doing-agri-business which will help in fostering agriculture among States by promoting a competitive spirit.

I must highlight the infusion of digital technologies in the farm sector that is transforming the entire input supply chain, crop management cycle, storage and market access. Initiatives taken by Agriculture Universities and the Indian Council of Agricultural Research in digital and artificial intelligence are playing a vital role in agri research. Lab-to-Land programs are being disseminated to make technologies accessible to farmers. Also, a number of agri-innovation startups are coming up for accelerating modernization by bringing in applications in precision agriculture and creation of digital platforms. The AGRI-UDAAN programme of mentoring start-ups is helping to connect them with potential investors. The Ministry of Commerce and Industry's policy of allowing 100 percent FDI in marketing of food products and in food product e-commerce under the automatic route is a welcome initiative for foreign investors.

To enhance agriculture productivity, there is a need to focus on R&D for judicious water management, up-gradation of irrigation facilities, storage infrastructure as well as to promote participatory farming. I firmly believe that efficient supply chain management, building more integrated markets and resolving market distortions will not only boost the food processing sector but also help in providing better prices to farmers' and enhance their income. Further, a diversified cropping pattern would mitigate the risks such as harvest losses and price shock. Bridging the urban-rural divide, promoting investments in modernizing agriculture, harnessing technology, empowering woman and creating jobs for rural population will all help in making agriculture a viable activity, eradicating hunger and malnutrition and thereby ensuring "food for all."

I must say with India on the rise and for New India to become a reality at the earliest, the government should modernize farming and position it as a profitable opportunity so that it attracts our youth.

With elections around the corner, I sincerely hope that the political parties develop election manifestos that focus on building a superpower India in which the government, industry and people are equal stakeholders, aiming at inclusive growth and sustainable development. With this, I would rest my thoughts with a quote by Thomas Jefferson, "Agriculture is our wisest pursuit, because it will in the end contribute most to real wealth, good morals and happiness."

He emphasized that this was the first ever direct interaction with trade and export bodies on this scale by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. Dr Suresh Prabhu said that the government's duty is to help industry to grow and facilitate business by simplifying regulations. The Minister referred to the jump made by India to 77th position in the Ease of Doing Business Ranking. He emphasized that it is the target of the government to take India into top 50 rankings for which it is constantly making endeavors. In this regard, a pan India exercise was conducted to understand the problems and parameters affecting Indian businesses.

Dr. Prabhu stressed on improving the Ease of Doing Business for each district in India and further said that the benefits of the schemes and initiatives should percolate down to the ground level. He mentioned that with improvement in EODB in each district, the standard of living and income of people in that district improves, and with it their demand increases and simultaneously the revenue of that district also increases. He opined that to achieve the aim of double digit GDP growth of India, GDP growth rate of each district must increase by 3-4%.

The Minister mentioned that the strategy has been changed to increase overall economic growth of India and that depends on both internal trade and external trade and assured that the two ministries involved are working together in a holistic way.

He also highlighted that India received highest ever foreign direct investments (FDI) in recent years and now their target is to bring in FDI aggregating US$ 100 billion in the country. This would help to create new technology and new job opportunities, new small and medium commercial enterprises, among others.

Dr Prabhu mentioned about the Government's vision on 'Make in India.' He pointed out that many initiatives have been taken in the defence sector along with startups. He said that the 'Startup India' programme has been very successful so far and planning is underway to expand it further by removing all the hurdles.

Dr. Suresh Prabhu said that exports have been growing for the last three years and reached the highest level of around US$ 314 billion this year. He stressed that India is able to achieve this level when the rest of the world is suffering from global challenges and reduced trade.

Dr Suresh Parbhu also discussed the agriculture export policy and spoke about the government's plan to take agriculture exports to the level of US$ 100 billion. He also mentioned that the government is trying to setup 15 international offices that would be closer to market places and would promote businesses.

He further discussed about the government's strategy to take India to the level of US$ 5 trillion economy that would include US$ 3 trillion from manufacturing, US$ 1 trillion from agriculture and US$ 1 trillion from services. He further said that a separate department has been created for logistics to remove the logistics related problems in the ministries. The government is working on increasing the market access, bilateral deals, SOPs, among other important areas.

Dr. Suresh Prabhu urged industry representatives and government to work together to take India to the level of US$ 5 trillion economy and requested industry representatives to engage with the government closely and work as a team.

Plan for $100 billion FDI inflow

Hon'ble Commerce and Industry Minister, Mr. Suresh Prabhu said that the government is working on a blueprint to increase FDI inflows to $100 billion through a targeted approach. He was quoted to have said, "We have removed almost all sectoral restrictions. I have asked Invest India to identify those who can get that amount. I am getting research done on companies who have the cash, where they will invest, what is the sectoral intent and I am personally talking to Fortune 500 companies and requesting them to come. We will make sure that we will take it to a new level." In 2017-18, FDI flows into India were estimated at over $61 billion.

P. Kumar, Former CMD, NSIC and Advisor, and Ms. Vertica Divedi, Co-chairperson, Women Entrepreneurs Committee, PHD Chamber

The PHD Women Entrepreneurs Committee organized an interactive session on 'Marketing Opportunities in Government Procurement Program for Women Entrepreneurs' on February 25, 2019 at PHD House, New Delhi. The interactive session was for Women Entrepreneurs to benefit from the GeM portal/schemes to market their products and services to the Government Departments as well as PSUs as there is a huge potential for women entrepreneurs to enter in Government Procurement Programme.

Government e-Marketplace (GeM-gem.gov.in) is a very bold step of the Government with the aim to transform the way in which procurement of goods and services is done by the Government Ministries and Departments, Public Sector Undertakings and other apex autonomous bodies of the Central Government. GeM is a completely paperless, cashless and system driven e-market place that enables procurement of common use goods and services with minimal human interface. In January 2019, GeM launched 'Womaniya on GeM', an initiative to enable women entrepreneurs and women self-help groups (WSHG) to sell handicrafts and handloom, accessories, jute and coir products, home décor and office furnishings directly to government ministries, departments and institutions. Womaniya initiative aligns with the government's initiatives for MSMEs, especially the three percent reservation in government procurement from women entrepreneurs.

The event was graced by the presence of Mr. Anurag Awasthy, Product Manager, Center of Excellence for Indigenous and Inclusive Products, Government e Marketplace (GeM); Mr. Anil Khaitan, Immediate Past President, PHD Chamber; Dr. H. P. Kumar, Former CMD, NSIC and Advisor, PHD Chamber; Ms. Tripti Somani, Chairperson, Women Entrepreneurs Committee, PHD Chamber and Ms. Vertica Divedi, Co-chairperson, Women Entrepreneurs Committee.

The session was very interactive wherein the GeM team, headed by Mr. Anurag Awasthy answered the queries of women entrepreneurs in regard to vendor registration on GeM portal and list of services and products available on GeM. During the interactive session, four on the spot vendor registrations were done successfully by the GeM Team on the GeM Portal.

Mr. Virender Ganda, Senior Advocate- President, NCLT and AT Bar Association; Hon'ble Mr. Justice S.J. Mukhopadhaya, Chairperson, National Company Law Appellate Tribunal; Hon'ble Chief Justice (Retd.) Mr. M.M. Kumar, President, National Company Law Tribunal and Mr. Rakesh Kumar, Advocate

PHD Chamber in collaboration with the National Company Law Tribunal and Appellate Tribunal Bar Association (NCLT & AT BAR), Society of Indian Law Firms (SILF) and The Bar Association of India organized a seminar on 'Resolution Plan under The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 and Issues Arising Therefrom' on February 1, 2019 at PHD House, New Delhi.

The session was addressed by Hon'ble Mr. Justice S. J. Mukhopadhaya, Chairperson, National Company Law Appellate Tribunal; Hon'ble Chief Justice (Retd.) Mr. M.M. Kumar, President, National Company Law Tribunal and Mr. Virender Ganda, Senior Advocate and President of the National Company Law Tribunal and Appellate Tribunal Bar Association.

Hon'ble Chief Justice (Retd.) Mr. M.M. Kumar, President, National Company Law Tribunal emphasized that the resolution professionals have a greater role to play and seek solutions for the cases referred to NCLT so that these are resolved with with utmost sincerity. He pointed out that the Hon'ble Supreme Court and the RBI have often recalled the contribution of National Company Law Tribunal in settling corporate cases, referred to it with such meticulousness that as a result huge amount of money came back to the banking institutions. Ever since, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 came into being, intensive efforts have been made for cases referred to NCLT and adjudicating authorities to find resolutions and liquidation has never been the objective.

Justice Mr. S. J. Mukhopadhaya, Chairperson, National Company Law Appellate Tribunal asked the resolution professionals to perform their assigned duties with diligence and required detailing so that such professionals not only render required help for carving out resolution but also help adjudicating authorities in pronouncing their judgement. Justice Mukhopadhaya stressed that the role of resolution professionals as well as the Committee of Creditors and other such stakeholders becomes critical and important. He hoped that the resolution professionals will be making such diligence as this would lead to seeking a resolution rather than liquidation.

A panel discussion was also organized which was moderated by Mr. Virender Ganda, Senior Advocate. Mr. Sanjeev Krishan, PWC and Mr. Atul Sharma, Managing Partner, Linklegal India Law Services addressed the participants. While the former delved into the commercial aspects of the resolution process, the latter emphasized on the practical problems being faced in the corporate insolvency resolution process. Mr. Sanjeev Krishan opined that trading in debt might be the right way to go forward in resolving corporate insolvency. He illustrated that there has only been one case till date, where the financial creditor has been backed by the financial investor. He brought forward the practicality that even if there have been numerous cases where the corporate insolvency resolution process had been successfully initiated, most of them have somehow continued to remain in legal entanglements for a long time to come. Consequently, such corporate debt had been liquidated. A commonality between the speeches of Mr. Sanjeev Krishan and Mr. Atul Sharma was that both of them marked out the resolution process to be essentially a merger and acquisition process.

Around 230 delegates comprising of Senior Advocates, Advocates, Insolvency Resolution Professionals/ Resolution Professionals and other stakeholders attended the seminar.

The objective of this session was to disseminate various policies being implemented in the country for the promotion and growth of MSMEs, which might be of interest to the NRIs.

Dr. H P Kumar, Advisor, PHDCCI & Former CMD, NSIC in his welcome address highlighted the various policies of Indian Government to promote investments from Non-Resident Indians and PIOs for setting up new business ventures. He highlighted that MSME sector in India enjoyed priority in the 'Ease of Doing Business'. He further assured the participants that this was the best time to invest in India due to its favourable investment environment.

Mr. Atul Khatwarkar – Cybersecurity Head & Advisory Board Member OWASP

AppSecIndia in his address talked about Stuxnet – a virus which remains dormant without a particular target. Being an open source weapon, MSMEs are exposed to such cyber threats. He highlighted that Internet is a powerhouse with 26 billion connected devices and all sectors are being targeted by such virus such as transport, defence, nuclear, etc. He said that being digital, there is a great need for a more powerful Cyber security.

Mr. Dinesh Sharma, Head North & East India and Business Banking, RBL Bank briefed the participants about the RBL Bank. He highlighted that MSME business has grown as midsized Banks, like RBL has reached out to remote areas to finance the MSMEs. He further mentioned that Indian Diaspora should connect with MSMEs and for this RBL Bank is ready to make a connect.

Mr. Subramaniam Krishnan, Partner- PE & FS, E&Y in his address highlighted that MSMEs play a big role. He mentioned that various tax and regulatory aspects have benefitted the MSME sector. He further highlighted that it is an incentive to invest in new plant and machinery as in last five years several funding options have ushered in like Payments Bank, Small Finance Banks, etc. He said that MSMEs have a bunch of alternatives for raising funds.

Mr. Logie Naidoo, Former Deputy Mayor of Durban said that there are 1.5 million Indians in Durban. He highlighted that Mahatma Gandhi spent 21 years in South Africa and Satyagrah and Ahimsa came to his mind during that period. He mentioned that in 1994 with a new Democratic Government, Indians and African people were restricted to spices, jewellery and saree sector. They were not allowed to be a part of the industry. And only now Indian people are becoming industrialists in South Africa. He highlighted that youth have a tremendous opportunity and synergy to develop South Africa with its available resources. He said that there can be a link with the eastern part of the world for further development with involvement of MSMEs. Lastly, he said that GOPIO, Pravasi Bharatiya Divas is a wonderful platform for such tie ups and linkages with the Indian Diaspora.

Indian Economy Grows from Steady to Fast and Fastest

Dr S P Sharma, Chief Economist

Ms Kritika Bhasin, Research Officer | Ms Shivani Mehrotra, Research Associate

The journey of Indian economy has been promising as the economic growth trajectory increased steadily during 1960s to 1990s to fast in 2000s and fastest in the 2010s. The advent of economic reforms has not only enhanced the socio-economic growth and development, but also provided a conducive and promising business environment.

Trends in GDP Growth Rate

The GDP growth trend of Indian economy has shifted from steady to fast and now to fastest in the world economic system. From 1960s and 1990s, the average growth rate of GDP has been steady at 4.6%. In 2000s, GDP recorded fast growth at the rate (average) of 7.2%. In 2010s, especially, over the last five years, spanning from 2014 to 2019, the average growth rate of GDP in India has been the fastest at 7.7%. This has made India the fastest moving emerging economy in the world economic system. The macro-economic environment has improved significantly during the last few years. Inflation is contained, fiscal consolidation is on the right path and foreign investment flows are growing year after year.

During the last few years, the government has undertaken a plethora of reforms and corresponding budgetary allocations for each and every segment of the population to facilitate all-inclusive growth and sustainable development of the economy. According to the IMF, India is a bright spot in the global ecosystem and India's growth is looking very lucrative in the coming years. India's growth has surpassed many emerging and developing economies. Recent IMF data suggests that India is the fastest growing economy in the world and this trend will continue in 2019 and 2020 also. Recently, NITI Aayog expects India to grow at 9-10% by 2022-23 which would raise the size of the economy in real terms from USD 2.7 trillion in 2017-18 to nearly USD 4 trillion by 2022-23.

Incomes Improved and Inflation Contained

During the last five years, the Indian economy has witnessed remarkable improvement in macro-economic environment with lead indicators improving significantly. The real GDP growth increased from 6.4% in 2014 to 7.2% in 2019. Per-capita income at current prices has exhibited an increasing trend from Rs. 79,118 in 2014 to Rs. 1,25,397 in 2019. Overall inflation has been contained over the last few years as the WPI inflation decreased from 5.2% in 2014 to 4.4% in 2019 and CPI inflation dipped from 9.5% in 2014 to 3.3% in 2019.

Exports have steadily increased from 7.8% in 2014 to 12.1% in 2019 and the total trade of the country has improved from USD 764.5 billion in 2014 to USD 769.1 billion in 2018. The fiscal deficit as share of GDP declined from 4.5% in 2014 to 3.3% in 2019. Further, India recorded a consistent increase in foreign inflows over the last few years. FDI inflows have increased from USD 36.0 billion in 2014 to USD 61.9 billion in 2019.

Going ahead, according to advanced estimates of Government of India, the industrial growth is expected to increase from 3.8% in 2014 to 7.8% in 2019, while services growth is also expected to show a consistent growth, increasing from 7.7% in 2014 to 7.9% in 2019. The agriculture sector is expected to grow by 3.8% in 2019. The growth of public consumption has increased from 0.6% in 2014 to 9.2% in 2019. GFCF grew from 1.6% in 2014 to 12.2% in 2019. Other factors that put India on an upward growth trajectory are forex reserves that increased to USD 393.2 billion in 2019 from USD 304.2 billion in 2014; BSE Sensex increased to 35749 in 2019. The average crude oil price (Rs./1BBL) decreased to Rs 4497.1 per barrel in 2019 from Rs 5982.3 per barrel in 2014. The Reserve Bank of India reduced repo rate to 6.5% in 2019.

On the global charts, the Indian economy is looking remarkably attractive in comparison to its performance in the last five years. The improvement in the Ease of Doing Business from 142nd in 2014 to 77th in 2019 is a significant outcome of the diligent efforts of the government towards improving business environment in the economy. Improvement in World Bank's Ease of Doing Business rankings have been observed primarily due to significant improvement in dealing with construction permits with improvement and trading across borders. India ranked 44 out of 160 in the Logistics Performance Index in 2018. India improved to 58th rank out of 140 economies in the Global Competitiveness Index.

India has demonstrated sizeable improvements over the years. India has been able to accelerate on the pathway to innovation due to quality of its research institutions. India has been consistently climbing up its Global Innovation Index (GII) ranking since 2015. The Global Innovation Index (GII) rankings put India at 57th position in 2018. India improved in four out of the seven GI pillars: Institutions, Human capital and research, Market sophistication, and Creative outputs. The improvement in rankings is a result of shift to ease of paying taxes and to an improvement in ease of resolving insolvency.

Conclusion

Going ahead, the economy needs further bold measures to boost the investment environment and to trigger demand growth to the next level. Though lot of reforms have been announced across sectors and segments, structural reforms are required in the land and labour laws along with a dedicated approach for skill development.

Health and education system needs to be focused with the longer-term approach as strong education sector would help the growing population not only to find better standards of living but also enhanced competitiveness of the workforce at the domestic level and in international markets.

Inclusive health facilities would place India in a better position for inclusive growth and development of the nation. Shifting disguised unemployment from the basic agriculture sector towards the food processing and value added activities and other growing sectors such as housing and construction sector, MSMEs, among others, would open up great avenues for the job creation for the growing young population in the coming times.

CONSTRUCTION ARBITRATION: Claim preparation is critical and vital

Dr Saraswat SB Arbitrator

The infrastructure and construction sector in India is progressing rapidly with many ongoing large scale construction projects receiving huge investments. The importance of construction sector cannot be denied from the fact that its contribution to GDP of India is around 1.4% which is next highest to agriculture. It employs around 40 million of work force. This sector has operational budget of around 1,75,000 crores per annum.

Due to multi - party nature, the projects are becoming more risky. There are many risks in the large and mega construction projects in any country in general and in India in specific. One of the identified risk is delay of the projects due to various reasons of delays, therefore, the disputes in the construction sector are on rise. These disputes finally land in demands of extension of time of project without imposition of any liquidated damages (LD) and penalties and brings claims and counter-claims from contractors to employers and vice-versa and that begins the battle of conflicts and disputes. In view of above, the preparation of claims and counter claim is one of the most critical and vital activity in the arbitration.

Although there is no standard format or set formula for preparation of claims/ counter-claims by the party(ies) in construction arbitration - as every project is unique and involves different variety of disputes but below mentioned steps and factors can be considered as a general guidance for preparation of claims / counter claims by domain experts of the contractors as well as the employers -

A. Preparation of claims by the contractors:

Again there is no standard formula or format to indicate the heads under which claim can be prepared. However the following can work as an overall guide:

- i) Complete cost incurred in organizing the project by the contractor during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- ii) Cost incurred for the extra engineering hours during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- iii) Cost incurred for the extra hours in procurement during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- iv) Cost incurred in supervision of site during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- v) Cost incurred with regard to additional insurance, premiums and maintaining/ extension of the financial BG's and LCs for the delayed period of the project.
- vi) Cost of the overhead of the contractor's company during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- vii) Cost of the price variation as per the price variation formula mentioned in the contract for labor, supplies and applicable items during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- viii) Cost relating to payment of extra taxes, duties and levies by contractor, if any for during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- ix) Cost with regard to extra resources for accelerating the project during delayed period.
- x) Cost with regard to arrears or pending amount/invoices/bills with the employer during the entire duration of the delay in the project.
- xi) Interest on the payment not received, arrears, late payments with bank rate of cumulative interest.
- xii) Payment of cost of items which were not originally in the scope of work of the contractor but were supplied as per requirement of the employer and were not paid.
- xiii) Cost relating to extra scope of work which was not originally part of the contract but executed by contractors on the subsequent request of the employer.
- xiv) Additional claims/prolongation claims based on specific criteria and conditions of contract of particular project executed by contractors.
- xv) Prolongation cost incurred by contractor due to delay in completion of the project.
- xvi) Overhead of the contractor's organization proportionate to the cost of the project is to be claimed which can be based on actual amount as per records. Otherwise it can be calculated based on some standard formula that has been accepted as one technique to determine overheads internationally. For example Eichley formula can be used to determine overheads.

xvii) Change orders which have not been paid by the employer will have to be evaluated.

xviii) Any exceptional claim which is unique to the project as per execution situations and contract conditions/breaches/violations will have to be considered.

While preparing the claim by contractors under various heads as above the accepted item rate / data either available in contract or available as per National / International standard norm of rates will be considered for computing the claims. Abnormally high rates, exaggerated values, unrealistic prices and item rates which cannot be justified, should not be used for computation of claim amounts. Basis and system of calculation of various claim amounts must be explained in justification notes to make the claims more scientific, realistic and logical.

B. Preparation of Counter-claim by the employer:

It may be pertinent to note that any consequential damages and claims due to delay in the project are normally not allowed and are not normally tenable in the construction/project contract except the Liquidated Damages (LD) for delay in the completion of the Project.

The possible heads of claims may vary from one contract to another depending on its conditions. The possible heads are as follows:

- i) Recovery of the amount for opportunity loss for the delayed period, if allowed by the contract.
- ii) Extra counter-claims based on specific criteria adopted by employer as per contract condition.
- iii) Recovery of the LD amount from contractors by the employer for delayed period of the project.
- iv) Recovery of the LD amount for failure in Performance Guarantee (PG) parameters as specified in the contract.
- v) Recovery of the amount for items not supplied as per specification and scope in the contract in terms of quantity and quality.
- vi) Recovery of the amount for the jobs which could not be completed as per scope of contract by contractors. These jobs may either still be pending or may have been executed by employer at risk and cost of the contractor.
- vii) Recovery of any consequential losses incurred by the employer due to any act of contractors as per specific provisions of contract.

viii) Cost for any item which is repeatedly failing and non-performing as per mentioned rating causing production loss and have not been replaced by the contractor in spite of at least three reminders during defect liability period can be claimed.

ix) Cost for items and erection work which were inferior in quality and needs replacement/substitution based on past performance records and which have not been remedied by the contractors can be claimed.

C. Consideration of following points by the Arbitral Tribunal for giving an arbitral award:

- i) Arbitral Tribunal is required to go in details of Delay Analysis Report ( DAR ) of the contractor and employer.
- ii) It also needs on the type of delay and the party responsible for it is based on the DAR and evidences submitted by the contractor and employer in support of/against it.
- iii) Arbitral Tribunal can classify delays of the project in basic four categories. The four categories are as follows:

a. Critical delay:

There are delays on critical path and are excused by single party and are excusable. Such delays can be attributed wholly to the employer or to the contractor. It is also possible that some part of such delays may be attributable to employer and some part to the contractor at different stages of critical path.

b. Concurrent delay:

These delays are caused by the contractor as well as by the employer and are excused by both the parties.

Such delays are excusable but non-compensable.

c. Non-critical delays:

These delays do not delay the project and are non-excusable and non-compensable.

d. Force Majeure delays:

Such delays are not attributable to contractor or to the employer as these happen due to reasons which are beyond their control.

After the Arbitral Tribunal classifies the delays and places them in a particular category, then the total picture of delay becomes very clear from the angle of how much delay is by employer, how much delay is by the contractor, how much is concurrent and how much is under force majeure category.

From the above, following conclusions can be drawn by the arbitral Tribunal:

- i) Quantum of delay attributable to the employer;
- ii) Quantum of delay attributable to the contractor;
- iii) Quantum of extension of time a contractor is eligible along with eligibility of claims;
- iv) Quantum of extension of time contractor is eligible without its eligibility of claims.

E. How much extension of time contractor is eligible with eligibility of claims?

Once the Arbitral Tribunal is clear as to how much extension a contractor is eligible against the delay then it becomes clear to determine as to what claims are to be awarded to contractor by employer and how much should be the amount of each claim as calculated based on the granted extension of the contract.

Policy Pronouncements and Developments

Recommendations of the 33rd GST Council meeting

To boost the residential segment of the real estate sector, at the 33rd GST Council Meeting held recently, it was recommended that GST shall be levied at an effective GST rate of 5% without ITC on residential properties outside affordable segment and 1% without ITC on affordable housing properties. The new rate applicable from 1st of April, 2019 shall be for a residential house/flat of carpet area of upto 90 sqm in non-metropolitan cities/towns and 60 sqm in metropolitan cities having value upto Rs. 45 lacs (both for metropolitan and non-metropolitan cities). Tax structure and tax compliance becomes simpler for builders.

India's Inc. debt levels to triple by next year

Global Rating agency Standard and Poor's in a report titled "Indian Corporate 2019 Outlook--Time For Caution." warned that revenue growth of India's rated companies is likely to slow down in the next 18-24 months. It cautioned that global risks such as stability of commodity prices as well as demand from the US and China will have a greater bearing on Indian companies rather than domestic demand in the next year or two. Elections may pose additional risks for Indian corporates. Change of administration may trigger expansionary government spending which may push up borrowing costs or even raise inflation. The revenue environment for rated corporates is facing increasing global risks such as China's slowdown, trade war escalation, or a disorderly Brexit, the report said. The capital expenditure will be concentrated in few companies in fiscal years 2020 and 2021 for either one-off capacity building or defending market positions against disruptive trends. A gradual taper down of capital expenditures for rated companies in aggregate is likely to turn discretionary cash flows positive for the first time in three years. Over the decade from FY 2011-FY2020, rated corporates will double their aggregate EBITDA but this will be accompanied by tripling of debt.

Ease of Doing Agri-Business Index

The government has been reorienting the agriculture sector by focusing on an income-centeredness which goes beyond achieving merely the targeted production. The income approach focuses on achieving high productivity, reduced cost of cultivation and remunerative price on the produce, with a view to earn higher profits from farming. To ensure that the reform agenda of Government is implemented by all States/UTs, a need was felt to develop a competitive spirit between the States. Keeping this in mind to rank the States through Ease of Doing Agri-Business Index, a concept note along with parameters for developing an Index has been circulated to all States/UTs inviting their views. The concept is to consider farming not solely as a production oriented activity carried out to achieve food security for the country, but as a business activity carried out by farmer as entrepreneur. The proposed index has taken the aspects of increasing production/productivity, increasing price realization of agri produce and decreasing input costs of production, risk mitigation and investment related attributes. Agriculture being a State subject, the State Governments undertake development of perspective plans and ensures effective implementation of the programs. The index will help in fostering agriculture among States by promoting a competitive spirit amongst the States.

Increased exports in India can improve jobs and raise wages

A report titled "Exports to Jobs: Boosting the Gains from Trade in South Asia" jointly produced by the World Bank and the International Labour Organization shows that increasing exports can lead to better jobs and higher wages in India, including more formal jobs for youth and women. Labor market policies can help different groups of workers acquire the right skills and ensure that the gains of increased exports are shared more broadly across society. The report shows that increasing exports would boost average wages. The biggest beneficiaries of the wage gains would be the high-skilled, urban, more experienced, and mainly male workers. For low-skilled workers, the shift would result in an increase in formal jobs. The research report looks at how globalization might contribute to local jobs and wages. # This budget, overall deserves 9.5 out of 10: PHD Chamber

Business Reporter
RANJAN, Pat :

WHILE congratulating Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Finance Minister Arun Jaitley and Interim Finance Minister Piyush Goyal, President of PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Rajeev Talwar said that this Interim Budget is for the youth. Taming it as perfect budget, Rajeev Talwar said that it has focused on livelihood of the poor, addressing the distress of farmers, increasing the income level of middle class, reforms in the promising housing and construction sector and creating employment for the youth. This budget deserves 9.5 points out of 10 on creating a dynamic, promising and confidence-building environment in India, he added. As the economy is projected to become a US$ 10 trillion economy in next 8 years, the government has rightly focused on roadmap for the developmental transformation of the country. The government has provided a great tax relief to middle class by giving tax exemption of upto Rs. 5 lakh to around 3 crore people. This would go a long way to boost the consumption demand and increased saving rates in the economy, he said. Increase in investment in one residential house to two residential houses with the benefit of rollover of capital gain tax upto Rs 3 crore, once in a lifetime is a great reform for the housing and construction sector. It would enhance the employment opportunities for the unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled workforce in the country. Extension in the period of exemption from levy of tax on notional rent on unsold inventories, from one year to two years, from the end of the year in which the project is completed is encouraging as it will give an impetus to the real estate sector, said Talwar. He further said that digitalization of one lakh villages in the next five years would enhance speed of the economy and spread awareness of the policy environment at the grass root level. Similarly, increased allocations for MGNREGA to Rs.60,000 crores in 2019-20 would enhance rural employment and rural demand.

Rajeev Talwar

Separate Department of Fisheries would provide sustained and focused attention to the sector which would improve the standards of living of people employed in the Fisheries sector, he said. Direct income support to 12 crore small and marginal farmer families with land upto 2 hectares at the rate of Rs. 6,000 is a major breakthrough which will create transparency in the system and will have positive impact on addressing the farm distress. The ten dimensional vision for the next decade really shows the confidence of the government to transform India to the next level with the strong and sustainable growth trajectory, said Rajeev Talwar. Vision for social infrastructure for a $10 trillion economy and to provide ease of living is the well-thought reforms for the next 10 years to enhance the human development and standards of living. The other dimensions such as Digital India, Pollution-free India, rural industrialization, cleaning of the rivers, self-sufficiency in food, vision of a healthy society among others are inspiring and promising in building confidence of the people, Talwar maintained. PHD Chamber is pleased to know that the government is equally concerned about the national security of India as the defence budget would be crossing Rs 3 lakh crore for the first time in 2019-20. The self-employment schemes including MUDRA, Start-up India and Stand-up India would create employment opportunities as well as harness energy of the youth. "We are proud of the hard work and innovative ideas of our youth due to which India has become the world's second largest start-up hub. Overall, we believe that the budget is pragmatic and would promote all-inclusive growth of the country in the coming times", said Rajeev Talwar.

PHD Chamber interacts with Union Minister Dr Suresh Prabhu on pending issues

By OUR STAFF REPORTER
DEHRADUN, 18 Feb: An industry interactive session for one hour with Union Minister of Commerce and Industry, Dr Suresh Prabhu was organized by PHD Chamber and other industry bodies across the country through Video Conferencing, today.

The session focused on discussing the issues concerning manufacturers, exporters and importers with the Commerce Minister. The minister spoke about the focus of the ministry on involving industry more to influence the process of planning and policy making to strengthen the Government's facilitating role.

He also discussed various industrial issues relating to value addition, growth and stabilizing development of the grassroots units. He also talked about the Ministry's determination to ensure ease of doing business.

Yashraj Kalia, Chairman, Uttarakhand State Chapter of PHD Chamber, said it was a unique initiative and the efforts were appreciated. Such initiatives needed to be regularly held at least intervals of six months.

And, Suresh, Regional Director, PHDCCI, stated that the problems brought out in such programmes would ensure enough weight provided the firms were adequately monitored through close cooperation and follow-up.

Uttarakhand Chamber, Chairman, IT Taskforce of PHDCCI Dehradun, said the IT export services had grown potential to be tapped out of Uttarakhand, although there were certain issues at the national level that needed to be addressed by the Union Government. The IT Export services were comparable to the export of tangible goods and the government has to simplify the export process to help the IT services to grow through STPI. This was a indeed, one concerning process and needed a lot of expenditure. STPI further adds the information to the RBI and BIS results to the Authorized Dealer (Bank) to facilitate the exports. The Bank once again charged the exporter a hefty sum of money as response their export. This whole process was a big hurdle in the promotion of exports through IT. He stated that a commission would be set up to look into the matter in this respect.

The Executive Committee of Bhagwanpur Industrial Association was represented by Omkar Kishor. A representation on the long pending issue of Bhagwanpur Industrial Estate, raising without any drainage system causing major problems to more than 300 units with more than Rs 5000 crore investment, had been submitted to the country during Living Benefits Hearing, a solution was proposed and accepted by the state administration and MNM authorities, that the drainage system along with the widening of NH73 would be constructed by the Bhagwanpur Industrial Estate. A service letter for serving the estate was also proposed and accepted. None of the above solutions had been actually implemented in the NH73 plans for NH73 as yet.

An impending issue arising out of the considerable gaps in Basic Customs Duty structure of business entities in terms of cheaper imports from Bangladesh and ASEAN Countries ( Vietnam, Indonesia, etc.), sending in the negative impact on balance of payments due to reduced manufacturing activity and underutilization of the manufacturing capacity, was also submitted by PHD Chamber on the occasion.

Topics stated that these and more such issues were submitted on the occasion and would be duly followed up by PHD Chamber for a proper solution.
