PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Friends,

It's been a past exciting month with the people's voice resounding out aloud. The Aam Aadmi Party's (AAP) surge to power in Delhi for a third term, boosted by a massive mandate reaffirms the solidarity and support for the 'Common Man' and a clear trust in the democratic machinery our country offers us. The Chamber warmly congratulates Arvind Kejriwal, the party leader, and his team members for their outstanding performance. We wish AAP the very best in fulfilling the aspirations of the people of Delhi, with a clear focus on local governance and impact delivery.

"Kejriwal's model of governance"- that promises good quality education and healthcare at government-run schools and health clinics, respectively; round the clock electricity and drinking water; cleaning the Yamuna; appointing mohalla marshalls and upgrading efforts for improved women's safety by installing CCTV cameras and more, seems to be the need of the hour. Bringing distant parts of the NCR under the ambit of Delhi's connectivity map by extending the metro to more than 500 kms and thus, increased outreach to industrial areas, along with their up-gradation are welcome initiatives. I hope the Delhi Government also continues with its excellent economic policies of lower tax rates, higher tax collections and overall better governance. For sound functioning of the economy, the State and Centre need to work in harmonious synchrony. The Industry hopes that both the Modi government and AAP work together with a spirit of mutual cooperation for the benefit of both, the citizens and Business houses of Delhi. We, at the PHD Chamber are dedicated to partner with the Government for implementing best model practices, encourage clean-tech innovations to collectively overcome the challenges of pollution and support transport management to make Delhi the fastest growing metropolitan in the world.

On the national front, US President Donald Trump's maiden visit to India comes as a historic reinforcement of bilateral partnership between the two countries. The well-organized 'Namaste Trump' event in Gujarat, high-level meetings in Delhi and the President's visit to Agra were inspiring for the citizens of both the countries. I greatly welcome the USD 3 billion defence deal between the two countries that comes at a crucial time to further bolster India's defence preparedness and military capabilities. The defense deal provides us with the best and advanced military equipment, including Apache and MH-60 Romeo helicopters. Also, noteworthy are the other agreements including on safety of medical devices, research and uptake of mental health and increased import of liquefied natural gas.

I am positive that President Trump's visit will boost the sentiments of businesses to enhance trade and investment between the two economies. The Chamber expects a comprehensive free trade agreement to be successfully signed between the two nations in the near future, taking Indo-US ties to a global partnership level. I also commend the discussions that took place on the importance of a secure 5G wireless network and the need for this emerging technology as a tool for freedom, progress, and prosperity. I sincerely believe that this strategic partnership will certainly script a dramatic turnaround between the world's two largest democracies and provide the impetus to achieve the bilateral trade target of USD 500 billion by 2025.

Needless to say, these are trying times with the global economy exposed to geopolitical uncertainty, trade tensions, technological disruptions, climate change, and more recently—the Coronavirus. It is very unfortunate that Coronavirus has severely hit the world's second largest economy China, leading to a subdued global demand scenario and weaker prospects for exports across countries. It is estimated, the outbreak may negatively impact global growth by 0.3 percentage points or USD 250 billion and cause considerable market dislocation. Given India's high dependency on Chinese imports, I opine that while all logistic support must be extended to China and its citizens in these troubled moments, it is time for revival of domestic consumption demand and to build on global trade. Domestic capacity building will also provide an opportunity to increase our presence in global exports. I also suggest that focus must be given to strengthen India's supply chain to its top 10 export destinations.

Going ahead, for the fundamentals of the Indian economy to remain strong, businesses should adapt their processes to the transformative reforms put forward by the Modi government. Reforms such as GST, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, Direct Benefit Transfer, Digital Governance and Ayushman Bharat have been successfully implemented, guided by our PM's motto of "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas, Sabka Vishwas", that have benefitted the poor and marginalized. It is further heartening to note that once the Vivad Se Vishwas Scheme formally gets passed in Parliament, an electronic interface will be introduced whereby taxpayers shall be able to find details of their dispute and apply instantly for a settlement by paying taxes.

I recommend that while the government is taking measures for reviving demand and consumption, it is also necessary to undertake land and labour reforms, strengthen efficiencies in agricultural marketing system and focus on skill development for our burgeoning youth. E-commerce and Start-ups offer tremendous opportunities for innovation and development and initiatives should be taken to create an enabling environment for these sectors. Industries such as food processing, textiles and tourism also need to be promoted further for creating jobs.

Sustainable development is the pathway to the future which offers a framework to foster economic growth, create ethical wealth and intensify governance. Having said this, the government needs to focus on poverty alleviation, issues related to climate change, power shortages, water scarcity, health, education, food security and women's empowerment. Given the Government's pro-business sentiment, we at the Chamber are highly motivated and will continue to engage with policymakers and organize events and awareness seminars. Last month, we organized a conference at the Defexpo 2020 on 'Indian Shipyards Going Global: Shipbuilding & MRO and Role and Future of Aircraft Carriers' at Lucknow which was presided over by Mr. Shripad Yesso Naik, Minister of State for Defence. The Chamber also facilitated in the participation of several Indian Companies in the international exhibition at NY NOW, New York, USA in February.

The Coronavirus outbreak is becoming very serious. Apart from infecting tens of thousands of people globally, it has severely impacted global economies, markets, events and general travel. Due to the evolving situation, there are concerns whether India's health infrastructure would be able to handle this outbreak amongst its population. Given the gravity of the situation and its challenges, we need to urgently develop robust public healthcare facilities and delivery mechanisms, so that timely action may be taken. The Chamber pledges to work together with the government and private health agencies to address this situation in every possible way.

Mr. Pramod Chandra Mody, Chairman, CBDT graced the occasion as the Chief Guest. Mr. Kamlesh C Varshney, Joint Secretary (TPL) – I, Central Board of Direct Taxes also addressed the delegates in the technical session.

Chief Guest, Mr. Pramod Chandra Mody, Chairman, Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT), stated that the taxpayers' charter announced in the Budget will have a statutory status and it will empower citizens by ensuring time-bound services by the Income Tax Department. He also shed light on the "Vivad Se Vishwas Scheme" and said the scheme offers to settle pending direct tax-related disputes and aims to resolve 4, 83,000 direct tax-related disputes pending in various appellate forums.

Mr. Kamlesh C Varshney, Joint Secretary (TPL) – I, Central Board of Direct Taxes, highlighted that the budget 2020 has given taxpayers the option to choose between the existing income tax regime (which allows availing existing income tax exemptions and deductions) and a new tax regime with slashed income tax rates and new income tax slabs but no tax exemptions and deductions. The new tax regime offers lower tax rates and new tax slabs and simultaneously removes tax exemptions/deductions and will result in lower tax outgo for the tax payer.

Dr D K Aggarwal, President, PHD Chamber in his welcome remarks mentioned that the Union Budget 2020-21 presented by the Hon'ble Finance Minister, Ms. Nirmala Sitharaman is a dynamic budget for the sustainable growth of the country. The fiscal deficit at 3.5% of GDP in FY2021 is also in line with the expectations and we look forward to the Government remaining strict to maintain fiscal consolidation at this level. He highlighted that the abolition of DDT is highly encouraging and it will further make India an attractive destination for investors. Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, Senior Vice President, PHD Chamber mentioned that the budget allocation of about Rs 69,000 crores for the health sector and other supportive measures for bringing Ease of living for every citizen is highly encouraging. Mr. Pradeep Multani, Vice President, PHD Chamber mentioned that the focus of the Budget on the Agriculture sector with pinpointed 16 action points to double farmers' income by 2022 is highly encouraging. He opined that Taxpayer's Charter will create simplifications and remove apprehensions of taxpayers.

Mr. Bimal Jain, Mentor, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber discussed the key highlights of indirect tax perspectives of the Union Budget 2021. He highlighted that Customs valuation for imported goods and Transfer Pricing under Income Tax laws are based on arm's length principle, whose objective is to ensure that taxable values of imports are correct and taxes are paid appropriately on arm's length value. However, intention under both the regulations drives in opposite directions i.e. Customs tend to increase the import value of goods to increase tax while the Income Tax Department attempts to reduce purchase price of imported goods to increase taxable profits.

Mr. Mukul Bagla, Chairman, Direct Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber in his technical presentation mentioned that the person is allowed to avail benefit of section 139 only if he avails the option in the following prescribed ways: Such option once exercised by a person having business income before the due date of return of income u/s 139(1) in any year on or after the Financial Year 2020-21 shall also apply to the subsequent assessment years. For a person having business income, this option once withdrawn in any subsequent year, after opting it in any previous year, the person will not be able to avail this option again in the subsequent years, unless he does not have business income in that year.

Mr. N K Gupta, Chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber stated that to boost 'Make In India' and to protect Indian industries from imports, the government has increased import duties on certain agro and animal based products, some items of basic metals, machinery for use in specified products, copper and certain articles for use in manufacture of electronic items, household goods and appliances, electrical appliances, footwear, furniture goods, stationery items, toys, certain machineries etc. Import of certain raw materials and inputs of domestic manufacturers attracts lower duty. While concluding the session, he added that due to so many notifications, circulars and judgments, simplification in GST regime is crucial for ease of doing business.

Mr. Rohit Jain, Partner, Vaish Associates Advocates in his presentation said that a new section 115BAC has been inserted w.e.f. AY 2021-22 which provides the option to individuals/ HUF to pay tax at concessional rates subject to satisfaction of certain conditions. He said that the benefit of concessional taxation under section 115BAC can be withdrawn by a person having business income only once in the previous year other than the year in which it was exercised and such a person shall not be eligible to exercise option under this section, unless he

SEMINAR ON BUILDING A $5 TRILLION ECONOMY: Role of Capital and Commodity Markets

Mr. K S Mehta, Former President, PHDCCI; Mr. Vijay Sardana, Member - Commodity Derivatives Advisory Committee (CDAC), SEBI; Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, Sr Vice President, PHDCCI and Mr. V S Sundaresan, Executive Director, SEBI

The Capital Market and Commodity Market Committee of PHD Chamber organized a seminar on 'Building a $5 Trillion Economy: Role of Capital and Commodity Markets' on January 30, 2020 at PHD House, New Delhi. Mr. V S Sundaresan, Executive Director, SEBI was the Chief Guest for the seminar.

Mr. B K Sabharwal, Chairman, Capital Market & Commodity Market Committee, PHDCCI moderated the session and highlighted the positive role of the capital and commodity markets in the economic growth of the country. He lauded the role of SEBI in ensuring the evolvement of an empowering ecosystem to nurture the capital and commodity markets.

Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, Senior Vice President, PHDCCI in his welcome address highlighted that stock and commodity markets have a great role to play in the growth journey to be a $ 5 Trillion economy. He appreciated the role of the government and the regulators for fostering a climate for growth and suggested to encourage new instruments for trading in markets.

Mr. Narinder Wadhwa, President,

Commodity Participants Association of India stated that 40 percent contribution to a $ 5 Trillion economy will come from the commodities sphere and therefore the commodity markets must be strengthened. He suggested that participation of mutual funds will make the commodity markets more vibrant and added that the changing landscape of the commodity market promises growth for the Indian economy.

Mr. Ashok Agarwal, Chairman, Globe Capital Market Ltd. stressed the need for reforms in commodities trading. He opined that Commodity exchanges should be brought out of the Essential Commodities Act and they must be allowed to carry out digital trading. He also focused on the need to improve liquidity in the equity as well as the commodity exchanges. He suggested reduction of cost of transactions in the commodity market for improving liquidity in the market.

Mr. Vijay Sardana, Member - Commodity Derivatives Advisory Committee (CDAC), SEBI highlighted the various inefficiencies in the marketing of different commodities and said this was costing the country very dear. He cited the example of huge quantities of wheat rotting in the FCI godowns and the poultry market and cautioned that unless these inefficiencies were addressed, it would be difficult to achieve success.

He also lamented that important commodities were absent from the commodity markets and said that no one from the industry appeared interested in touching them. On this, he cited the example of animal feed area and said no exchange had proposals for fodder contracts before them. Going forward, there is need for capacity building for the corporates and also for the farmers. There is a pressing need for commodity-specific interventions for removing inefficiencies, he further added.

Mr. Sameer Patil, Chief Business Officer, BSE Ltd stated that the new approval for options in goods will change the entire dynamics for trading in goods. The securities and commodities markets added 15 million jobs as there was a need for people to create and run the ecosystems surrounding these markets. He suggested that for these markets to grow, there is a need to increase liquidity in these markets.

Mr. V S Sundaresan, Executive

Recent Developments in the IBC with Special Focus on Section 29A

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Committee of PHD Chamber organized a roundtable discussion on ‘Recent Developments in the IBC with Special Focus on Section 29A’ on February 14, 2020 at PHD House, New Delhi. Mr. GP Madaan, Co-chairman, Insolvency & Bankruptcy Committee, PHD Chamber discussed about the importance of IBC, its introduction and subsequent amendments made in it and provisions under section 29A.

Mr. Dinesh Agarwal, Co-chairman, Insolvency and Bankruptcy Committee, PHD Chamber, shared his viewpoint on the IBC code and amendments made in it.

Mr. Anil Khaitan, Chairman & Managing Director, Sunil Healthcare Limited and Former President, PHD Chamber mentioned two points to characterize willful defaulters-capacity to pay, but not paid and diversion of funds. He stressed on the point that if a good promoter has not done anything, wrong, then he should not be categorized as willful defaulter.

Mr. Arun Kumar Jagatramka, Group Chairman, Gujarat NRE, said that Section 29A was suddenly introduced without any prior debate or discussion and is something that the Bankruptcy Law Reforms Committee (BLRC) and the Parliament had never thought about. He emphasized that the Amendment (29A) had the unintended and unfortunate consequence of painting the genuine promoter and entrepreneur with the same brush as a fraud, and/or a willful defaulter. He suggested that the line between a regular business caught in the fluctuating global and domestic economic cycles, and a fraud, and/or a willful defaulter needs to be redrawn. He mentioned that Section 230 of the Companies Act, 2013 offers a window of opportunity to revive the company. However, Section 230 comes with a very stringent condition of obtaining 75% consent separately from each class of the stakeholders which would not be easy for anybody with questionable credentials. In this regard, he said that to label such an effort u/s 230 as a backdoor entry by Promoters is wrong as the promoter proposes the scheme himself and not through any benami person. Further, he discussed about the importance of management in the company and its role during CIRP and liquidation process.

Mr. P C Mehta and Mr. Sudhanshu Munshi, Indian Bank, jointly stated that in certain manner, if there is a good understanding between bar, bench and resolution professional (RP), the RP gets 6 months time to announce the resolution and after that it takes upto 6 months to one year for further process. They mentioned that during this time the RP gets the fees and apart from this, all kinds of expenses such as fees of legal advisor, among others adds to it. They mentioned that section 29A has completely turned the IBC, as so much of litigations are based on only this section. He informed that, currently most of bankers want section 230 to be used, as the company’s revival is a benefit to all. They stated that categorizing willful defaulters is a very challenging process, which restricts them to make this classification in each and every case. They suggested that the forensic audit argument must be used in this regard.

Ms. Jyotsna, Principal Associate, Maheshwari & Co., compared the provisions for RPs in CIRP process in India with that prevailing in US and UK. She also discussed about the 90 day period given under section 230 of Companies Act 2013. She suggested that there should be a provision to ask for extension of the 90 days period, as the period is not sufficient enough.

Mr. Hemant Gupta, Rao and Emar, raised a query regarding section 29A of IBC and Section 230 of Companies Act 2013 that allows MSME to pitch in with a resolution plan. He further stated that in this case, there are a couple of transactions for which RP has to file with NCLT. He said that this application gets admitted and the adverse order is passed against corporate debtors and again 29A comes into force.

Dr. S P Sharma, Chief Economist, PHD Chamber while welcoming the delegates to the PHD Chamber discussed Section 29A and its effect on the businesses.

If farmers are to achieve success achieved by industry over the years, they definitely need a fair market price for their produce. He added that now farmers should take advantage of cold storage chains and learn to hold their stocks and sell it at the right price. Farmers do not need subsidies, they need proper price for their produce, he further added. He commented that the target of doubling the farmers’ income set by Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi can be achieved if livestock insurance is provided to the farming community.

Mr. S K Sethi, Founder & CEO, Insurance Foundation of India, and Senior Member, PHD Chamber, in his theme address, urged the farmers gathered at the seminar to take up rearing cattle and add value to the cattle products, if they want to increase their incomes. ## CONCLAVE ON E-INVOICING & NEW GST RETURN FORMAT

Mr. Prakash Kumar, CEO, Goods and Services Tax Network; Dr S P Sharma, Chief Economist, PHD Chamber; Mr. N K Gupta, Chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber; Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, Senior Vice President, PHD Chamber and Dr Gaurav Gupta, Co-chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber

PHD Chamber organized a conclave on “E-invoicing & New GST Return Format and Two & a Half Years of Goods & Services Tax – Where we stand and where we want to” on February 14, 2020 at PHD House, New Delhi. Mr. Prakash Kumar, CEO, Goods and Services Tax Network graced the occasion as Chief Guest. Mr. Ravi Kiran Edara, VP (Services), GSTN, Mr. Jagmal Singh, VP (Services), GSTN and Mr. Kumar Vivek, AVP (Services), GSTN also addressed the delegates in the technical sessions.

Chief Guest, Mr. Prakash Kumar, CEO, GSTN mentioned that E-invoicing is a step towards improving the ease of doing business and reporting for GST. He highlighted that manual data entry leads to transcription errors and wrong entries. There is a need for a standard to ensure complete interoperability. The aim is to make it a part of business process of taxpayers and eliminate all reporting.

Mr. Ravi K Edara, VP (Services), GSTN in his technical presentation highlighted the features of an e-invoicing system and clarified questions around important terms like IRN, Digital signatures etc, under the new e-invoicing system. He stated that once a taxpayer uploads their software generated invoice to the Invoice Registration Portal, a unique invoice reference number is generated by the system. This unique IRN will be based on the computation of the hash of the GSTIN mentioned on the document (invoice or credit note etc.), the year and the document/invoice number. This hash will be as published in the e-invoice standard and unique for this combination.

Mr. Jagmal Singh, VP (Services), GSTN said that the GST Network (GSTN) has introduced an interactive web-based prototype of the Offline Tool of the new return system. With this demo version of the prototype, a taxpayer will be able to navigate across different pages. A taxpayer will be able to analyze and experience the practical aspects of the simplified GST returns with this prototype. A user can then share feedback or suggestions with the GSTN.

Mr. Kumar Vivek, AVP (Services), GSTN outlined the E-Invoicing workflow. He stated that once the invoice is generated by the seller using their own accounting or billing system, it needs to be uploaded to the invoice registration portal. One of the most significant benefits of integrating the e-invoicing system into the business operations is sharing the uploaded data with the GST and e-way bill system - this means no more multiple data entry.

Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, Senior Vice President, PHD Chamber in his remarks mentioned that e-invoice is the future means of electronic billing. Issue of e-invoices by the taxpayers registered under GST having a turnover above Rs 500 crores will be mandatory from April 1, 2020.

Mr. N K Gupta, Chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber in his theme presentation stated that E-invoicing is the new system through which business to business (B2B) transactions are authenticated electronically by GSTN for further use on the common GSTN portal. Further, he highlighted that a system of cash reward is envisaged to incentivize customers to seek invoice. He further informed that Deep data analytics and AI tools are being used for crackdown on GST input tax credit, refund, and other frauds and to identify all those who are trying to game the system.

Dr Gaurav Gupta, Co-chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber remarked that e-Invoice will boost automation when it comes to GST return filing process. GSTR filing currently involves immense manual work that is prone to errors.

Mr. Onkar Sharma, Senior Associates, Advaita Legal; Mr.N K Gupta, Chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber; Mr. Kumar Vivek, AVP (Services), GSTN; Dr Gaurav Gupta, Co-chairman, Indirect Taxes Committee, PHD Chamber; Mr. Jagmal Singh, VP (Services), GSTN and Mr. Ravi Kiran Edara, VP (Services), GSTN

Mr. Onkar Sharma, Senior Associates, Advaita Legal highlighted the distortion of GST design through Compensation Cess and Health Cess. He mentioned that the Supreme Court relied on Article 271 of the Constitution to conclude that the Centre is authorized to levy cess by exercising its power under the said article. Further, it stated that when Article 248 is read with Article 246 and 246A, it clearly indicates that residuary power of legislation is with the parliament. It clarified that while GST was enacted to subsume various cess, however, there is no bar in respect of levy of any new cess.

Mr. Shivam Mehta, Partner, Lakshmikumaran & Sridharan in his presentation provided a detailed analysis of changes in GST, Customs and Foreign Trade Policy in Union Budget 2021.

Mr. Deepak Suneja, Associate Partner, Nitya Tax Associates highlighted that ‘E-invoicing’ or ‘electronic invoicing’ is a system in which B2B invoices are authenticated electronically by GSTN for further use on the common GST portal.

the requirements of Indian Defence especially in Ship Building, Naval Aviation and Aircraft Carriers.

For much of its existence, the Indian shipbuilding industry was designed to cater to domestic needs only. It is only in recent years, that local shipbuilding efforts have taken on global interests. Defence exports provide economic, diplomatic and military leverages. The shipyards have been exporting to markets like Sri Lanka, Maldives and Mauritius and could step up these efforts. The endeavors of the Government to encourage shipyards to bid for export orders from friendly navy makes in-house design capability an imperative and sets pace for India to compete on the global stage.

The conference served as an apt platform to hold extensive discussions on the immense potential to forge strategic partnerships and convert India into a hub for defence shipbuilding exports and repairs to ships of friendly foreign countries.

During the day, delegates had an opportunity to listen to the views of the speakers from the Ministry of Defence, Indian Navy and DPSU Shipyards.

Mr. Vikas Gupta, Managing Director, Wiley India said that we are witnessing a unique employability conundrum, where despite a large number of young graduates and newly created job roles, there is lack of skilled quality talent. Corporates transitioning to digital business ecosystems, with roles in new emerging technologies are looking for ‘quality talent’ which is well-versed in-demand skills and not just their degrees. ### FM meets industry on direct tax dispute resolution

PRESSTrust OF INDIA
New Delhi, February 10

FINANCE MINISTER NIRMALA Sitharaman on Monday met industry representatives on the proposed direct tax dispute resolution scheme that provides opportunity to taxpayers to pay outstanding taxes and get waiver of interest and penalty.

With over ₹9 lakh crore worth direct taxes locked up in litigation, the government last week introduced 'Direct Tax Vindha se Vishwas Bill, 2020' in the Lok Sabha. Once passed by the Parliament, the scheme would be notified and rules would be framed. "During the meeting, industry associations gave their suggestions for the scheme," a source said.

Separately PHD Chamber of Commerce president D K Aggarwal, in a statement, said the last date for the scheme should be extended by a month till April 30, 2020. The scheme "will benefit many taxpayers and can generate more than ₹2 lakh crore for the government in the coming times if it is broadened and exclusions are minimum under this scheme," he said.

Under the proposed scheme, taxpayers willing to settle disputes shall be allowed a complete waiver of interest and penalty if they pay the entire amount of tax in dispute up to March 31, 2020, after which 10% additional disputed tax shall have to be paid over and above the tax liability.

Where the tax arrears relate to disputed interest or penalty only, then 25% of disputed penalty/interest shall have to be paid only if the payment is made by March 31, beyond which the same shall be enhanced to 30%.

Industry seeks changes in tax settlement scheme

REKHA BHARGAVA
New Delhi, 10 February

Industry on Monday asked Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman to tweak the bill on settling direct tax disputes by reducing the amount of tax under the scheme on the lines of a similar one for indirect taxes announced in the previous Budget.

Sitharaman on Monday met industry representatives on the scheme that provides opportunity to taxpayers to pay outstanding taxes and get waiver of interest and penalty.

Source in the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) said the main lacuna of the scheme was that 100 per cent of the disputed tax had to be paid. On the other hand, a similar scheme to settle pre-GST excise and services tax dispute had a provision to reduce tax liability by half.

The chamber recommended that reduction of tax should also be provided under the direct tax scheme.

The Direct Tax Vindha se Vishwas Bill offers waiver of interest, penalty and prosecution for settlement of those disputes pending before the commissioner (appeals), Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT), high courts or the Supreme Court as of January 31.

While a complete waiver of interest and penalty will be given in case of payment made by March 31, an additional 10 per cent of the disputed amount will have to be paid after that.

Separately FICCI Chamber of Commerce President D K Aggarwal in a statement said that the last date for the scheme should be extended by a month till April 30.

The scheme "will benefit many taxpayers and can generate more than ₹2 trillion for the government in the coming times if it is broadened and exclusions are minimum under this scheme," said Aggarwal.

Source at FICCI said the deadline for filing declaration should be March 31, instead of payment of taxes. They said the scheme should also cover those taxpayers who have approached the dispute resolution panel, but have not filed appeal before the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals).

About 800,000 cases (involving ₹9 trillion direct taxes are locked up in litigation). The scheme cannot be avoided in a case where prosecution has been initiated or where tax arrears relate to undisclosed foreign income or assets.

Need to boost demand to fight coronavirus: PHDCCI

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, 27 FEBRUARY

India needs to boost its domestic consumption demand and domestic capacities to mitigate the likely impact of Coronavirus (COVID) on global trade, the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PHDCCI) said today.

"The fundamentals of the Indian economy remain strong and businesses will adjust consequently in the backdrop of robust economic reforms undertaken by the government to create a strong and resilient economic environment in the country," PHDCCI president D K Aggarwal said in a statement, while noting that sectors such as pharmaceuticals, solar and iron and steel have been facing disruptions in imports of raw materials from China due to the outbreak of the virus.

He called for a focus on strengthening India's supply chain to its top 10 export destinations including the US, UAE, Hong Kong, Singapore, UK and Germany, where China significantly contributes to their imports.

"It is very unfortunate that Coronavirus has severely hit the world's second largest economy, China, leading to a subdued global demand scenario and weaker prospects for exports across the nations," Mr Aggarwal said, apprehending the spread of the disease in many countries.

As China is a major player in global trade, contributing around 13 per cent in world merchandise exports, exporting majorly to the US, Hong Kong, Japan, Korea, Vietnam, Germany, India and the Netherlands, the impact on global trade would undermine the growth prospects of the world economy.

The disease, according to PHDCCI figures, may hit global GDP by 0.3 percentage points, which amounts to more than 250 billion dollars.

Disruptions in the global supply chains will not only hit China's exports but also exports of the importing countries as they are importing a large chunk of raw materials and intermediate goods from China while exporting to other respective destinations, PHDCCI said.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, February 14

GSTNETWORK CEO Prakash Kumar on Friday said e-invoicing and the new format for filing GST will help improve the ease of doing business and reporting for the indirect taxes.

"E-invoicing is a step towards improving ease of doing business and reporting for GST. Manual data entry leads to transcription errors and wrong entries," Kumar said while addressing an event on 'E-invoicing and New GST Return Format' organised by the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

There is a need for standard to ensure complete interoperability, he said.

"The economies in the high-income group OECD are at the forefront of invoice digitisation," he said.

The GSTN CEO said that in India, the aim is to make digitisation part of business process of taxpayers and eliminate all manual reporting.

NK Gupta, chairman (indirect taxes committee) of PHD Chamber, said e-invoicing is the new system through which business-to-business (B2B) transactions are authenticated electronically by GSTN.
