President's Message

Friends,

It is with great pride and joy in my heart that I welcome you all to this new journey that we are embarking on together. It is my honor to serve as the President of this prestigious organization which has been at the forefront of nation building for the past 115 years. As we all know, the PHD Chamber has been providing crucial support to both Industry and the Government in their endeavours towards socio-economic progress of the country. As President of the Chamber, I assure you that it shall be my highest priority to further streamline this partnership and infuse it with renewed energy.

We as a nation are going through great technological advancements aimed towards equalizing the divide in society and providing a platform for business to thrive and boom, thus making India one of the world's most attractive economies. Recent economic reforms have propelled India's growth to USD 2.7 trillion which has been supported by a highly structured financial system and steadily growing consumer base. With regular capital and commodity market investments, the country has the potential to achieve the desired annual growth of 12-13 percent of its nominal GDP.

Experts expect India to become an upper-middle income country, the 3rd largest global economy by 2030 as a result of structural reforms, globalization, favorable demographics and digitization.

The recent jump India experienced in the World Bank's Ease of Doing Business ranking –from 100 in 2107 to 63rd position will bolster our position on the global destination map, is noteworthy. In this context, I am happy to quote Prime Minister, Mr. Narendra Modi's recent statement, "Every year we are improving in each parameter. Improvement in these rankings means that our Government is making decisions after a thorough understanding of the needs at the grass roots level for the industry.” India’s ranking also improved in the World Economic Forum’s Travel and Tourism Competitiveness Index from 65 in 2013 to 34 in 2019, an outcome of improved infrastructure, better roads, better air connectivity, better cleanliness and thus more foreign tourists visiting our country.

The global situation has been challenging in recent times putting several countries at crossroads. Having said this, I opine that India’s recent slowdown is temporary as the string of government decisions such as corporate tax cut, easing of FDI norms, quick GST refunds, contingency fund for the housing sector and releasing money into the banking systems will likely give impetus to investment and spur domestic demand. Prime Minister’s promise of a stable, predictable and transparent policy regime to catalyze foreign investments is in sync with the famous quote, “I have been impressed with the urgency of doing. Knowing is not enough; we must apply. Being willing is not enough; we must do.” Having said this, I must commend that Indian businesses are working with a sense of renewed vitality and drive in order to take forward the vision of making India a USD 5 trillion economy by FY 2024-25.

PHD Chamber’s majority members are the MSMEs, the growth engine of our economy. In such economic times, these counterparts of our economy need to be given a boost as they are facing the challenge of lack of easy credit access and liquidity crunch. Having said this, I applaud the recent measures to improve the working of MSMEs including subvention of interest to 5 percent for exporters, releasing government dues and creating platforms for rapidly resolving disputes. The announcement of settling outstanding payments is an appreciable move. These measures need to trickle down to the district and village level. We also welcome the government’s steadfast decision of controlling trade deficit by standing ground in face of differences with the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement. This is a crucial step to support the MSME sector which currently does not have a level playing field in terms of logistics costs, access to cheap fund and physical infrastructure.

In the same spirit, I must emphasize the potential that Digital technology has to transform India’s economy. With a disruptive approach towards innovation, SMEs and traditional manufacturers are focused on developing and utilizing new technologies. With a billion smart phone users and more than half a billion internet subscribers, India is keeping pace with Industry 4.0 and working to adapt technology for its populace. I believe that for becoming a global manufacturing hub, there is a need to leverage new technologies like 5G, AI, quantum computing, robotics, etc. to fast-track growth.

This is the time for affirmative action by the government on all fronts of growth: consumption, investment and growth. More financial reforms, sound regulations for NBFCs, allowing private sector banks to operate in a big way and deepening of capital markets would definitely complement the process. Governance of public sector banks and efficiency of credit allocation to the MSME sector should be given a priority. There is also a need to set up a dedicated fund for MSMEs of Rs. 25,000 crores with no collateral being asked on the lines of fund for stalled housing projects. The Chamber also suggests reduction in tax on MSME firms working as proprietorships or partnership firms. It will be my endeavor to incorporate more and more MSMEs as members of the Chamber.

It is well known that as India gets integrated into the global markets, the role of the States is becoming increasingly important in sustaining development. We plan to engage with the State governments to intensify our focus on improving State-level competitiveness and set up offices at Pan India level; to begin with Mumbai, as it is the economic capital of our country.

The Chamber will continue to promote ethical and global business practices and concentrate its policy advocacy role through its research facilities and help our members understand the government’s policies. “Exploration is the engine that drives innovation. Innovation drives economic growth.” Having quoted this, I would like to point out that ‘Make in India’ vision is great, but we must ‘Make It Happen in India’ is even greater. ‘Make It Happen’ in India will transpire with greater emphasis on education and skill development, socio-economic development, health care facilities and automation. Reforms in land acquisition and labour laws for creating employment in the economy are urgently required. Our demographic dividend must be provided top-class training to skill up our youth in various trades. The Indian youth needs to work judiciously to build a New India, which is free of poverty, illiteracy, corruption, hunger and discrimination. We have to ensure that each and every citizen gets to feel, tangibly, the fruits of economic progress.

I would like to congratulate this year’s Nobel laureates in Economics, one who is of proud Indian origin, Abhijit V. Banerjee and with him, Esther Duflo and Michael Kremer for their experimental approach to alleviating global poverty. This concurs with the government’s efforts for increasing the growth potential and with our Chamber’s current motto, “Towards a New, Inclusive & Prosperous India.”

With this, I close by reiterating my enthusiasm to collaborate with and facilitate partnership between Enterprises and the Government to my utmost to achieve new milestones during the year and look forward to your support and guidance so that together we can take the Chamber to achieve greater Progress, Harmony and Integrated Development.

Dr Qu Dongyu, FAO's New Director-General calls for Eradicating Global Hunger and Poverty

*Supriya Gugnani
Program Officer, Emergency and Resilience Division, FAO (Rome)*

Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) of United Nations has entered a new phase, with Director-General, Dr. Qu Dongyu taking the helm of the Organization on August 1, 2019. Dr Qu Dongyu, 56 years old, the first Chinese national to be elected as Director General of FAO holds a doctorate degree in Environmental Sciences from Wageningen University in the Netherlands and has numerous degrees including in Horticultural Science, Plant Breeding and Genetics.

Dr. Qu was actively involved in China's reform and opening-up process that led the country to reduce poverty and hunger. He formulated action plans aimed at reducing poverty and disaster and encouraging women empowerment, agri-tourism, etc. Before becoming the Director General of FAO, Dr Qu was China's Vice Minister of Agriculture and Rural Affairs. He has worked at the central and local levels and in leading research institutes, and as a human resources leader at the China Three Gorges Project Development Corporation.

Dr Qu has spent his life working on how to make sure the world is fed. His vision is founded on the belief that freedom from hunger is a basic human right, and that capability exists to eradicate chronic food insecurity. Dr. Qu's cardinal principle is that "problems can also be the source of progress". He has helped design South-South Cooperation projects with FAO and the World Bank.

As promised in his campaign speech, Dr Qu is creating a new organizational culture and business model at FAO. His priority is to assure a modern and innovative Organization that is at the service of member countries in fighting hunger and rural poverty. Dr. Qu's agenda at FAO will focus on five issues: Zero Hunger and poverty eradication; tropical agriculture; dryland farming; digital farming; and improved agricultural production and value chains.

Dr Qu has already launched the new Hand-in-Hand Initiative, designed to accelerate achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) to end hunger and poverty. In order to strengthen collaboration with the private sector, Dr Qu has reached out to major development partners, including the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to explore cooperation opportunities. His motto is "Simple life, but not simple work". He dedicated his first month in office to boosting staff morale, shoring up the support of Member States and international organizations and on focusing on achieving the SDGs within the context of FAO's mandate.

Director General of FAO*

In order to strengthen and optimize inter-agency collaboration, Dr Qu participated in a conference call on Antimicrobial Resistance with UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina Mohammed and the chiefs of the World Organisation for Animal Health and the World Health Organization. The Director-General also visited Yokohama to participate in TICAD where he met several African heads of state and government - ensuring them of FAO's support and exploring new areas of collaboration - and international organizations leaders.

FAO celebrates World Food Day each year on 16 October to commemorate the founding of the Organization in 1945. Events are organized in some 150 countries across the world. This year in Rome, FAO celebrated the World Food Day (the 74th anniversary of FAO), promoting the theme, "Our actions are our future, Healthy diets for a #ZeroHunger world." World Food Day celebrations showcase FAO's invaluable contribution to the elimination of hunger, a goal that is essential for achieving all SDGs. Speakers called for bolder and faster action across sectors to make healthy and sustainable diets available and affordable for all.

FAO Director-General, Dr Qu Dongyu warned how “hunger and malnutrition will be major barriers to achieving the SDGs by 2030 if we do not act now!” Dr Qu stressed the importance of collaboration and the role everyone needs to play - from governments, food companies, public sector, research institutions to consumers - to make progress towards enabling healthy diets for all, and reverse the current trend of rising hunger, overweight and obesity by 2030. “We need to invest in nutrition and for nutrition. We need to walk hand-in-hand and build healthy and sustainable food systems,” added the FAO Director-General.

There are over 820 million hungry people in the world. While the total number of those chronically undernourished has been increasing in recent years, the rate is decreasing compared to total population of the planet. Dr Qu also underscored that over 2 billion adults, and nearly 380 million children and adolescents, are overweight or obese. This is because our current food systems are failing to ensure food security for all and deliver on healthy diets whilst contributing to environmental degradation. From agricultural production to processing and retailing, there is little space for fresh, locally produced foods as high-yielding and profitable crops take priority. Although enough food is produced globally, food is not produced where it is most needed.

But instead of providing incentives to farmers to produce more nutritious food, many countries keep on subsidizing products with low nutritional value, favoring staple foods - wheat, rice, maize - over fruits and vegetables. This has negative implications for nutrition and dietary diversity. Nutrient-dense foods like eggs, milk, fruits, and vegetables can be very expensive, especially in poorer countries, which makes it harder for people to move away from staples. In richer countries, and a growing number of lower income countries, unhealthy foods are cheaper, readily available, and more convenient. People have moved from seasonal, mainly plant-based and fibre-rich dishes to energy-dense diets - high in refined starches, sugar, fats, salt, processed foods, meat and other animal-source products. This was due to globalisation, urbanisation and income growth. Unhealthy diets have become a leading risk factor for disease and death worldwide. There is an urgent need to make healthy and sustainable diets affordable and accessible to everyone,

The State of Agriculture report published by FAO stated that “globally, around 14 per cent of the world’s food is lost after harvesting. Around 60 per cent of the total micronutrients are lost because of wastage of fruits, vegetables, and animal-based products at various levels after harvest.” These losses need to be avoided by providing more infrastructure and new technologies.

FAO calls for better incentives for the world’s agricultural producers; easier-to-understand and more comprehensive food labels and responsible advertising to help consumers choose healthier diets; more sustainable trade with clear rules; and a push to think of nutrition as part of food safety. The private sector should also reformulate products to make them more nutritious whilst food companies that produce nutritious foods could be given incentives to make their products more accessible and affordable.

FAO is working with partners and communities around the world to step up efforts to achieve Sustainable Development Goal 2 - Zero Hunger and healthy diets. This includes developing with the World Health Organization guiding principles on “Healthy Sustainable Diets”, supporting the implementation of the Decade of Action on Nutrition (2016-2025), and providing support for global, regional and national food security and nutrition policies, strategies and programs.

The federal legislation adopted most of its provisions from the UNCITRAL Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration. One of the new provisions incorporated into the UAE Arbitration Law from the UNCITRAL Model Law is Article 25.

Article 25 ("Waiver of Right to Object") of the UAE Arbitration Law corresponds to Article 4 of the UNCITRAL Model Law, and states: "If a party proceeds with arbitration proceedings knowing that any requirement under the Arbitration Agreement or any of the provisions of the present Law from which an agreement may be made to the contrary, has not been complied with, where he fails to submit an objection to such violation on the time limit agreed upon or within seven (7) days of the date of becoming aware upon non-agreement, he shall be considered to have waived his right to object." The party will not be able to raise a claim against the counterparty at a later stage.

The party's failure to make their objections within the prescribed date is evidence of the party's consent to the counterparty's actions. The interpretation of the party's failure to timely object is an implicit concession since the party was aware of the violation but did not submit an objection. For the objection to be accepted, it must be raised to the arbitral tribunal within the required time period or within seven (7) days the party becomes aware of the non-compliance.

The underlining purpose of Article 25 of the UAE Arbitration Law is to support the quick resolution of the dispute by restricting the counterparty from raising objections to procedural irregularities that may occur during the course of the arbitral proceedings beyond a certain period of time. This article will help limit any delay tactics by the counterparty and support the effective management of the arbitration proceedings.

Another principle at play under Article 25 is the requirement of good faith by the parties in the arbitration proceedings. The good faith principle under UAE law not only requires the parties to a contract to perform the terms in good faith but also requires the parties in an arbitration to conduct the proceedings in good faith. If the party becomes aware of the non-compliance by the counterparty, the party in good faith requires to raise this issue to the arbitral tribunal.

The principles behind Article 25 of the UAE Arbitration Law have been explicitly stated in most legislations and arbitration rules. By way of example see the following provisions:

- Section 73 of the English Arbitration Act 1996; • Article 5 of the Qatar Arbitration Law; • Article 8 of the Egyptian Arbitration Act 1994; • Article 7 of the Jordanian Arbitration Act; and • Article 33 of the ICC Arbitration Rules.

Courts have also confirmed this rule in court judgements. By way of example, the Cairo Court of Appeal ruled that "the respondent has not objected the extension of the arbitration period during its review and till a date fixing for judgment a matter considered as assignment of its right to challenge the extension of arbitration period".

The French judicial system has also established this rule, although not explicitly stated in the French Arbitration Act. By way of example, the French Court of Cassation has held that "payment of arbitration fees during the deliberation of arbitrators indicates a clear and unambiguous will to proceed with the arbitration proceedings and acceptance of the period extension. If the opponent assigned his right to object the breaching procedure which is the expiry of arbitration period, he cannot object before the judge of invalidity about issuance of the award after the time specified."

The Paris Court of Appeal has also held that "[i]n view of the role of arbitrators set out in the arbitration agreement, the plaintiff depended on the defendant's breach of the agreed exclusive use clause and claimed compensation. Since it did not dispute the jurisdiction of the arbitral tribunal to determine the validity of the exclusive use clause, it is inadmissible to claim before the court of invalidity that the arbitral tribunal exceeds its assigned task limits".

Further, any non-compliance with issues relating to public order and the failure of a party to raise an objection fall outside the scope of Article 25 of the UAE Arbitration Law. These issues include, for example, the legal capacity of the plaintiff or the defendant, violation of the rules relating to the respect of the rights of defense and equality of the parties, violation of composition of the arbitral tribunal, or if the dispute subject matter is not subject to arbitration. If a party's non-compliance relates to a violation of the public order the party will not be required to raise the objection within the specified time period. The party will not waive its ability to object. Such violation can be raised if no objection was made during the course of the arbitral proceedings which shall permit the arbitral tribunal the opportunity to decide the issue (see Article 53 (2) of the UAE Arbitration Law).

In addition, UAE legislator stipulated in Articles 19 and 20 of the UAE Arbitration Law that the defenses relating to the arbitration agreement must be adhered to, nullified, or not included in the subject matter of the dispute within a period not exceeding the time of submission of the defendant's defense or during the next hearing at which challenge is made. If the objection is not raised before the arbitral tribunal within this period, the right to make the objection will be waived. However, the arbitral tribunal may accept the later plea if it considers the delay was for acceptable reason.

In our opinion, Article 25 of the UAE Arbitration Law requires the party raising the objection to do so before the arbitral tribunal within the specified period of time. This is consistent with most mainstream Arbitration Rules and international standards as it aims to expedite the settlement of disputes and prevent a party's bad intention to object the arbitration award although knowing the appeal shall not be accepted. As a principle to protect the right to urgently resolve the dispute, if one of the parties exceeded the deadlines set by the legislator, the right to defend shall automatically elapse.

Obituary

The passing away of a leading industrialist, Mr. K K Modi on November 2, 2019 has left an immense void for the Indian industry. Mr. Modi, served as President of PHD Chamber from 1983-84. Mr. Modi made a profound contribution to the field of business and nation building. As President of PHD Chamber, he articulated bold and innovative suggestions at various fora. Mr. Modi highlighted the distortions brought in the economy by high rates of taxes, which encouraged tax evasion, leading to loss of revenue and emergence of a parallel economy, resulting in increased disparities of income and encouragement of wasteful expenditure. He called for an end to case-by-case examination of all proposals for industrial expansion, which resulted in scope for arbitrary decisions and counter-productive delays.

The scion of one of the oldest business families in the country - the Modi family - and the eldest son of late Rai Bahadur Gujarmal Modi (founder of the city of Modinagar), Krishan Kumar Modi served as the chairman of Modi Enterprises, which includes companies like Godfrey Phillips, Indofil Industries and Modicare. Mr. Modi was the guiding force of the Modi Group's strategic development, giving it an overall direction and driving the group to one of the top ranking business house in India.

Mr. Modi made significant contributions to the Indian industry and held numerous positions in industry, trade, education, sports and charitable organizations. Mr Modi had a strong sense of corporate social responsibility and directed several initiatives to improve the society at large. He supported a number of educational institutions, healthcare and hospital services, spiritual and religious centres.

We at the PHD Chamber along with the Indian industry will remember him for his excellence in business and leadership.

Shri K K Modi

'Dedicated govt fund for MSMEs will spur growth'

Lack of access to finance and the subsequent liquidity crunch that micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) face continue to remain a big hurdle to growth, says B K AGGARWAL, president of the PHD Chamber of Commerce. He also feels Suburban Chakrabarty that the ease of doing business scenario remains dismal at the ground level and outside the metro cities. Edited excerpts:

What are the areas where major regulatory reforms are needed?

Given the health of the sector and the current liquidity crunch, the government needs to set up a dedicated fund for the sector along the lines of the fund for stalled housing projects. A ₹2000-25000 crore fund is needed which will only come to MSMEs along with no collateral being asked. MSMEs continue to be backbone of the economy and to revive growth their access to finance needs to be widened. Also, more needs to be done for MSMEs. There are existing penal provisions that equate credit payments by the government to MSMEs. But despite this, outstanding payments have continued to pile up for small businesses. While a lot of announcements have been made by the government in the last few months, public sector undertakings continue to pay late. The government's procurement portal has helped the process but sometime needs to be monitoring the stock payments. These suggestions would be sent to the finance ministry soon for consideration before the budget making exercise starts.

Q&A

Do you think ease of doing business has changed at the ground level?

Although our national performance in the World Bank rankings have improved, this needs to percolate down to the district level immediately. We can't afford any more delay. It is good that now states have become very conscious while the NITI Aayog is talking them over more than 300 parameters. But ease of running a business as well as the cost of running a business should be looked at as well.

Do you feel the cost of business is still high?

Again, circling back to MSMEs, while the corporate tax has already been reduced by the government, most MSMEs don't fit into the corporate category. The vast majority of MSMEs are either sole proprietorship businesses or partnerships, so taxes should come down on these types of businesses. For such individuals, the tax shall need to be tweaked with income up to ₹5 lakh being fully exempt. The rate should be 5 per cent for income between ₹5 lakh to ₹20 lakh, and 10 per cent for income between ₹20 lakh to ₹25 lakh. Also, the cost of interest remains high for businesses. Since inflation is under control, there is still room for reducing interest rates by another 100-200 basis points.

'The relation between Asian and India is a long-term one, not dependent only on the RCEP. Business between the two continues to grow'

When do you think that the economic slowdown would start to moderate?
There is certainly a global factor as the performance of the world economy continued to be below par. This has put pressure on exports.

Also, impact of the domestic election cycle on the economy needs to be considered. Public spending slows down before elections and there is a time lag in the implementation post election.

I believe the impact of all the key measures — the capital infusion into banks, lowering of corporate tax, quick GST refunds, and contingency fund for the housing sector — will have some time lag. We need another 3-4 months for the actual tangible results to show. So, I still consider the current spell of slow growth to be short term. By the beginning of the new calendar year, we would see an uptick in the economy.

What is the PHD Chamber's view on the RCEP deal?

If our concerns are not addressed, we should not sign it. That's a clear signal from the government and we should stick to it.

On the other hand, the relation between Asian and India is a long-term one and not dependent only on the RCEP. Business between the two (India and Asian) continues to grow.

Incidentally, a large Asian business delegation is visiting New Delhi next week as part of a business summit we are organising.

'Modi made world realise challenge of terrorism'

New Delhi, Sept. 30: Prime Minister Narendra Modi has made the international community realise that terrorism is not just a challenge for one country but to the world, humanity and Islam, minority affairs minister Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi said on Monday.

Naqvi said on Monday.

Lauding Modi's speech at the UN General Assembly in New York last week, Mr Naqvi said for the first time other nations realised that the Indian Prime Minister was speaking as the head of government of the world's largest democracy.

"He (Mr Modi) also made the international community realise that the issue of terrorism is not just a problem affecting a single nation, it is not a challenge for just one nation. Terrorism is a challenge for the world, for humanity and also a challenge for Islam," Mr Naqvi said in his address at the annual session of the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Many terrorists use Islam as a shield to play their "nefarious game", the minority affairs minister said.

Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan, in his speech, started relating Islam and terrorism to hide Pakistan's "factory of terrorism", he said.

Mr Naqvi said an environment of fear had been created before the 2014 elections that if Modi comes to power, India's relations with several countries, including Islamic nations, could be spoiled.

However, the minority affairs minister said the opposite happened and relations with several Islamic countries deepened.

समर्पित कोष बनाने से आएगी छोटे व मझोले उद्योगों में तेजी

पीएचडी चैंबर आफ कॉमर्स के अध्यक्ष डॉक अग्रवाल का कहना है कि उन को छोटी और विविध पहुंच न होना सूक्ष्म, लघु एवं मझोले उद्योगों को राह में बड़ा रोड़ा है। शुभाचल वक़्तवर्ती से बाताचीत में उन्होंने यह भी कहा कि करोड़ों रुपया मिलने स्तर तक ले जाने की जरूरत है। प्रमुख अंश...

किन लोगों में बड़े विकासकोय सुधार की जरूरत है?

छेत्र की आर्थिक स्थिति और मौजूदा नकदी संकट को देखते हुए सरकार को इस क्षेत्र के लिए समर्पित कोष बनाना चाहिए, जैसे अरबी आबासीय परिस्थितियों के लिए बनना गया है। 20,000 से 25,000 करोड़ रुपये के एक ऐसे कोष की जरूरत है, जो कि एक एकाग्रता से क्षेत्र के लिए हो और इसके लिए कोई जमानत न मांगी जाए। एकाग्रता से कोष को अर्थव्यवस्था को रोज़ है और इनको बुद्धि वातावरण करने के लिए उनकी विविध पहुंच बढ़ाई जानी चाहिए। इस समय ऐसे अवसर हैं, जिसमें सरकार द्वारा एकाग्रता से कोषों को शुरू करने की आवश्यकता को गंभीर है। इसके बावजूद छोटे कारोबारियों का ध्यान बड़े पैमाने पर अटका है। पिछले कुछ सालों में कई कंपनियों को गंभीर है, उनके बावजूद सार्वजनिक क्षेत्र को केंद्रित ध्यान में देरी कर रही है। सरकार के छोटे कारोबार को बचत से सुविधा हुई है, लेकिन अरबों ध्यान को विचारने को जरूरत है। यह सुझाव विश्व विकास को जानने वाली, जिससे बचत करने को प्रोत्साहन शुरू होने के पहले इस पर विचार हो सके।

अपने आर्थिक मंदी में सुधार की जरूरत क्या होने की उम्मीद है?

विकास कोष से वैश्विक बजटों से ऐसा है क्योंकि वैश्विक अव्यवस्था में सुविधा है। इसकी वजह से निवेश पर दबाव पड़ा है। इसके अलावा सूचना का अर्थव्यवस्था पर असर भी देखे जाने की जरूरत है। सूचना के पहले लोगों का खर्च कम हो जाय है और सूचना के बाद इसके लोभ को बढ़ाने में बचत लगाने है। बचत बचत है कि बैंकों में पूंजी बचाने, कर्जों पर दबाव कम करने, जोएस्टी रिफंड में देना, अक्षय क्षेत्र के लिए आकर्षक निधि जैसे सभी कदमों का असर होगा। हमें इनका परिणाम देखने के लिए 3-4 सालों में बचत करना होगा। एकाग्रता अभी भी मेरा विचार है कि बुद्धि मुक्त रहने का मौजूदा दौर कम अवधि के लिए है। यह केंद्रित सार शुरू होने पर हम अव्यवस्था में तेजी देखेंगे।

अगर हमारे विश्व का सफल नहीं होय तो हम हमेशा नहीं करेंगे। सरकार ने यह साफ संकेत दिया है और यह पर चल रही है। इसके अलावा अधिनियम और बजट के बीच दीर्घकालिक संबंध है और यह कि आगे के लिए विचार नहीं है। अगर और अधिनियम में करोड़ों लाख बढ़ा है। हम कारोबार को समर्थन देने का रहे हैं, जिसमें अधिनियम के तमाम कारोबारों को एक एकाग्रता से इस क्षेत्र में तेजी आने है।

क्या आपको लगता है कि करोड़ों रुपया मिलने स्तर तक ले जाने की जरूरत है?

वैश्व बचत की रैकिंग में हमारे राष्ट्रीय प्रदर्शन में सुधार हुआ है, लेकिन इसे वास्तविकता स्तर तक बढ़ाए जाने की जरूरत है। हम इस मामले में अब देरी करने की स्थिति में नहीं हैं। यह अच्छा है कि अब राज्य सरकारें बहुत सक्रिय हो रही हैं, क्योंकि सीटि अंशों 350 से ज्यादा मामलों के मुक्तिक इनको रैकिंग कर रहा है। लेकिन कारोबार चलाने अक्षम करने व कारोबार चलाने की लगन पर भी विचार किए जाने की जरूरत है।

क्या आपको लगता है कि भारत में करोड़ों रुपया मिलने स्तर तक ले जाने की जरूरत है?

एक बार फिर एकाग्रता से पर आते हैं। सरकार ने कोर्पोरेट कर पहले की कम कर दिया है। जिसमें अधिनियम के तमाम कारोबारों को एक एकाग्रता से इस क्षेत्र में तेजी आने है।

Will not be afraid of taking decisions that may attract corruption complaints: Rajnath

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 4

INVITING THE PRIVATE sector for active participation in the defence industry, defence minister Rajnath Singh on Friday said he will not be afraid of taking decisions for fear of attracting complaints of corruption.

Singh also said the Centre is committed in exploiting the entrepreneurship spirit of private defence sector and ready to interact and resolve their problems in the plans to take the Indian defence industry to the size of $26 billion by 2025. Stating that his doors are always open, he urged the private companies to come forward as he would like to give all help wherever possible.

Singh is scheduled to travel to Paris on October 7 on a three-day visit, primarily to receive the first of 36 Rafale fighter jets. The next day, Singh will fly a sortie in a Rafale fighter jet from a French airbase in Paris to gain first-hand experience of the aircraft.

Speaking at the India International Security Expo, which was organised by PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Singh said India cannot remain dependent on imported weapons for long since it did not align with the country's plans to become a superpower.

The minister said that when he became the defence minister people told him he should be careful on whom to meet and who to allow entry, as there could be scope for inviting complaints of corruption.

"They said that there are many business-related proposals, and there are matters related to imports and exports, and the minister should be careful of all this otherwise someone will raise a finger (Nahi to ungli uth jayegi).

"A minister who is afraid of corruption charges, should refrain (from taking decisions), Rajnath Singh is not worried about all this. People and big industry organisations in this country know who is what (kaun kya hai). I am not worried at all. Come, my doors are open. Whatever help I can give, the defence ministry will give. This is an assurance I would like to give you," he said. Defence procurement has often been dogged by allegations of corruption.

Singh also said his ministry had taken many steps to boost Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) in the defence sector and liberalised industrial licensing.

"I would like to tell you that in order to reach our aim, we have to walk a long road. However, it is my absolute belief that by 2025, we would take the Indian defence industry to the size of $26 billion," he added.

40 more services to be added to doorstep delivery scheme, says Deputy CM Sisodia

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Forty more services will be added to the Delhi government's doorstep delivery scheme by the end of this year, Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia said on Wednesday.

Delivering a speech on "Vision of making Delhi a world class city," organised at PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry here, he asserted that more than two lakh people have so far benefited from the scheme and the number is rising.

"Currently, there are 70 services under the doorstep delivery scheme and 40 more have been identified. By the end of this year, there will be 110 services under the scheme," Sisodia said.

Under the scheme launched by Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal in September 2017, people can call a helpline number to have various documents and services delivered at their doorstep.

Citing "problems" caused by multiplicity of agencies in Delhi, Sisodia noted that the system of governance in the city is the "worst" in the world. A collective effort is needed to make

Delhi a smart city, he said, adding the role of a government is to provide an ambience of easy user and business-friendly governance.

"There should be a single command centre of governance which is a need of citizen and business community in Delhi," the deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia said.

Talking about various reforms brought in by the Delhi government, Sisodia said besides simplifying the forms, "corruption" related to VAT, GST and excise taxes were removed. Tax compliance and collection has got a boost in Delhi due to lower rates, he asserted.

Interacting with the members of PHD Chamber, the deputy chief minister said the Delhi government has been able to reduce local sources of pollution by 25 per cent and more will be done to bring it further down.

He said a coordinated effort involving the Centre and neighbouring states was needed to overcome the practice of crop stubble burning that added to air pollution woes of Delhi during the winters.
