

India being the third largest consumer of crude oil in the world, after the US and China required an efficient hedging mechanism. Historically price differences between Brent and other index crudes have been based on physical differences in crude oil specifications and short-term variations in supply and demand. For the same, NSE has launched the Brent oil contract on 1st Mar 2019 which will provide an opportunity to market participants for accessing the global crude oil markets and hedging their risk.

On this backdrop, for awareness of the Brent Crude Future Contracts, the Capital Market and Commodity Market Committee of PHD Chamber is organizing an Introductory Session on "Brent Crude Futures" on 18th March, 2019 at PHD House, 4/2 Siri Institutional Area, August Kranti Marg, New Delhi – 110 016.

Your confirmation may reach us by email at sohale.gupta@phdcci.in; schoudhary@phdcci.in.

Looking forward to your participation at the Session.
