on launched

ment, through the International Development and the Ministry of Antiquities launched a Promotion Campaign. Government. This part of the $8.6 billion investment in the restoration of historical sites in Esna's tourism reconfiguration. USAID's Leslie Reed said: "The United States has contributed $1.57 billion (LE1.57 billion) to the restoration of dozens of cultural sites throughout Egypt. Last year, we completed the renovated temple in Esna and are excited to launch the Promotion Campaign. This will put Esna back on the tourism map and engage the private sector to explore investment opportunities and partnerships."

In the coming months, the campaign will hold exhibitions, photography competitions, and folkloric events to highlight Esna's attractions, its readiness to host expanded tourism, and opportunities for potential further investment.

USAID's work in Esna is revitalizing cultural tourism, creating jobs, and increasing public and private investment, and is in partnership with the Ministry of Tourism and Antiquities, the Ministry of International Co-operation, Luxor Governorate, and local partners including Takween Integrated Community Development.

Since 1978, the American people have invested over $30 billion (LE471 billion) to support Egypt's economic development.
