Shri Hemant Jain Ji,

Namaskar! I received your warm wishes on the occasion of my becoming the longest-serving elected Prime Minister of India in consecutive terms. I am deeply touched by your thoughtful message and sincerely thank you for your kind wishes. I consider it my privilege to have been blessed with the opportunity to serve Maa Bharati with devotion.

This moment is a symbol of the abiding strength of India's democratic traditions. It reflects the trust and blessings of 140 crore Indians. In honour of their invaluable faith reposed in me, I reaffirm that each moment of my life and every effort of mine will always remain dedicated to the nation.

Over the past 12 years, India has emerged with renewed confidence and dynamism, strengthening its global stature by pursuing development while also taking care of its rich heritage.

Basic facilities such as bank accounts, housing, toilets, electricity, gas and clean drinking water have reached crores of families. India has made remarkable progress across diverse sectors, from financial inclusion and welfare initiatives for the underprivileged to unprecedented advances in infrastructure and digital transformation.

Our youth, Nari Shakti, farmers, workers, entrepreneurs and people associated with the service sector are the pillars of India's development journey. Their aspirations, hard work and efforts are charting new courses for the nation's development. Today, even as India overcomes its challenges, we are setting new benchmarks in innovation, sustainable development and human welfare at the global level.

Recognising the vital role of industry, trade and commerce in nation-building, thousands of unnecessary compliance requirements have been scrapped, making the regulatory framework more transparent, predictable and business-friendly. Through initiatives to promote MSMEs, manufacturing and exports, we have enhanced the ease of doing business and made significant progress in taking local products to the global stage. Trade agreements with different nations have also unlocked new opportunities for entrepreneurs and businesses.

I am confident that with the active cooperation and collective strength of the people of India, we will achieve our goal of building Viksit Bharat by 2047. Your support and cooperation will be instrumental in realising this national resolve.

Once again, thank you for your affectionate letter. My best wishes for your good health, happiness and continued success.

Yours,

(Narendra Modi)
